To whom it may concern:

I highly recommend Andrea Douglas and her team at Nighthawk Marketing for their technical expertise, customer service and reliability in designing and developing websites. Andrea and her team redesigned and developed the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's (MDA) website that was badly outdated, difficult for users to navigate, and required a content audit of thousands of pages and documents. In addition, the website only existed in an unsupported production server which had numerous security holes.

The final MDA Drupal 8 site exceeded our expectations and was delivered on-time, on-budget, and in a shorter-than-average timeframe. The new website is now user-friendly, organized and allows multiple staff to easily maintain it.

Throughout the project, Andrea and her team members worked closely with MDA's leadership, steering committee, and internal working team to ensure consistency and ownership. The Nighthawk Marketing team was always available when needed and provided thoughtful technical advice and solutions to our challenges. Having managed multiple vendors throughout my career, Andrea and her team are committed to providing top-notch service and a producing a quality product.

I can unreservedly recommend the team at Nighthawk Marketing to anyone who needs a new website or an upgrade to their current one.

Sincerely,
